If you are passionate about classical education principles, possess a nurturing and engaging teaching style, and are committed to creating a positive and supportive learning environment, we encourage you to apply.

Responsibilities:

Curriculum Implementation:

- Deliver the Hillsdale curriculum that aligns with the school's mission and values for students in Grades 1 and 2.
- Create and execute developmentally appropriate lesson plans that engage young learners in active and meaningful ways.

Literacy and Numeracy Development:

- Foster early literacy and numeracy skills through a variety of engaging activities and strategies, utilizing the Literacy Essentials curriculum
- Utilize differentiated instruction to meet the diverse learning needs of young students.

Character Education:

- Integrate character development into daily lessons, emphasizing virtues and ethical principles.
- Create a positive and inclusive classroom environment that promotes kindness, respect, and cooperation.

Parent Communication:

- Maintain regular communication with parents or guardians, providing updates on student progress and classroom activities.
- Collaborate with parents to support the holistic development of each child.

Assessment and Feedback:

- Implement formative and summative assessments to gauge student understanding and growth.
- Provide constructive and timely feedback to students and parents.

Classroom Management:

- Establish and maintain effective classroom management strategies suitable for early elementary students.
- Create a safe and supportive learning space that encourages exploration and curiosity.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's or Master's degree in Education with a focus on early childhood education, or equivalent classical education experience.
- Previous experience teaching Grades 1 and 2, or equivalent classical teaching experience.
- Passion for and understanding of classical education principles.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- Willingness to take on additional responsibilities in order to grow in both personal career aspirations and Liberty Academy as a whole.
