- Overview:

We are seeking a passionate and dedicated Middle School History Teacher to join our classical education community. As a key member of our faculty, you will be responsible for cultivating a love of history and fostering critical thinking skills in our middle school students. If you have a deep appreciation for classical education principles and are committed to creating an engaging and intellectually stimulating learning environment, we invite you to apply.

Responsibilities:

Curriculum Delivery:

- Implement the Hillsdale 1776 history curriculum that aligns with the school's mission and educational philosophy.
- Cultivate a love of history through engaging and interactive lessons that promote critical thinking and analytical skills.

Classroom Management:

- Create a positive and inclusive classroom environment that encourages active student participation.
- Establish and maintain effective classroom management strategies to ensure a productive learning environment.

Assessment and Feedback:

- Design and administer assessments to evaluate student understanding and progress.
- Provide timely and constructive feedback to students to support their academic growth.

Differentiated Instruction:

- Tailor instructional methods to meet the diverse learning needs of students.
- Implement strategies for differentiated instruction to address various learning styles and abilities.

Character Development:

- Integrate character education into history lessons, emphasizing virtues and values.
- Encourage students to make connections between historical events and their own lives.

Collaboration:

- Collaborate with colleagues to integrate history curriculum with other subject areas.
- Participate in department meetings and professional development activities.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor's or Master's degree in Education with a focus on History or a related field, or equivalent classical teaching experience.
- Prior experience teaching history at the middle school level, or equivalent classical education experience
- Deep understanding and appreciation for classical education principles.
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills.
- Willingness to take on additional responsibilities in order to grow in both personal career aspirations and Liberty Academy as a whole.
